United Way of Central WV Establishing a Flood Emergency Fund

CHARLESTON -United Way of Central West Virginia is establishing a Flood Emergency Fund to assist affected residents who suffered from loss during the recent flooding in Kanawha, Clay, Boone, Logan and Putnam Counties in West Virginia.

These funds will help meet basic needs such as food, shelter, and clothing that were lost in the recent disaster. Additionally, infant and baby needs will be in demand. Many residents have lost everything and need help.

United Way of Central West Virginia is connected with the network of emergency assistance agencies serving the affected areas and will help serve as a conduit to assist those in need.

Donations are now being accepted for the Flood Emergency Fund. Donations can be made via cash, check, or credit card by contacting United Way of Central West Virginia using the information below. Donations can also be made ON-LINE at www.unitedwaycwg.org by clicking on the Flood Emergency Fund box. We hope that you can join us in emphasizing the importance of “neighbors helping neighbors” by assisting those who have been affected by this emergency.
